

Appreciation to Reviewers

Looking over this year's list of reviewers, I am reminded of a "Friends List" on one of the social networking sites, which have become so popular in recent years. All of the people listed below share a friends' connection to Psychiatric Services. We communicate periodically about a common interest—new research submitted to the journal—in an informal social network. The communication takes considerable thought and effort. The reward is an improved manuscript, which is the product of our communication—an accepted submission, a better revision, even a timely rejection with constructive criticism. I learn many things from this back-and-forth, and so do our authors. Thank you all for your generous contribution of time and for your expertise and guidance.

I would also like to express my appreciation to our outstanding staff. They help me do my job more efficiently and are always a pleasure to collaborate with. I know they also make your experience with Psychiatric Services better. The staff and reviewers together are the editor's support system, and they are the means to a successful journal.

Allow me once again to say thanks to all of you for participating in our Psychiatric Services social network. I wish you all the best for the coming year.

—HOWARD H. GOLDMAN, M.D., Ph.D., Editor

Note: Because of the publication deadline for the December issue, the reviewers listed below are those who submitted a review between October 1, 2006, and September 30, 2007.

Change of E-Mail Addresses for Authors and Reviewers

Authors of papers submitted to Psychiatric Services and peer reviewers for the journal are reminded to visit Manuscript Central at mc.manuscriptcentral.com/appi-ps and keep the contact information in their user account up to date. Because the system relies on e-mail communication, it is especially important to keep e-mail addresses current. If you have questions about the information in your user account, contact the editorial office at pscentral@psych.org.
